On the Lookout for Local Films!

Join us in making the inaugural year of Wildsight's Film Festival an event to remember. We are currently putting a call out to all local film makers to submit your newest creations for a chance to come alive on the big screen on Friday, November 15, 2019.

We invite films which focus on the environment – sharing stories which may be documentary style, educational, inspirational and mostly entertaining.

The films will be juried and will be judged considering these criteria:

- Showcase low impact activities.
- Have an environmental focus
- Involve local element – Kootenays, BC, Canada

If your film is chosen to show on November 15, we will be providing you with a pass to the event and a chance to speak in front of the audience about your creation. There will be a $500 Viewer's Choice Award the night of the festival. The $500 cash award could be yours!

We will be accepting submissions until October 1, 2019 at kimcran@wildsight.ca. Please include the following with your submission:

- Your name
- Contact information
- Film name
- Film description
- Film length

Wildsight Kimberley Cranbrook empowers environmentally responsible citizenry and supports conscious local economy. It provides consistent and ongoing leadership by engaging and listening to the concerns of the community, then responding with care, insight and innovation. The branch develops local programs, projects, events and campaigns that support ecological literacy and community action.
