

2026 Youth Climate Corps

Application Guide

This document is intended as a guide to help you write your application for the 2026 Youth Climate Corps program. Please read through the entire application before you start working on it so you can appropriately plan your time. We also recommend that you save your draft responses in this document until you are finished with them. When you are ready to submit your final responses, cut and paste them into our “Google Forms” website (click here).

The online application form is split into different sections, which you will fill in one at a time. The first part helps us gather basic personal information about you, your eligibility to participate in the program, and any particular needs you may have. The application questions (i.e. what your application will be evaluated on) will follow in the next part. At the end, you will be asked to provide a reference.

Please note that answers to application questions cannot be written by anyone other than the applicant.

Applications are open until positions are filled
Seasons start early May, 2026

If you have any questions, please email:

Tim Chapman (East Kootenay Program Manager): tim@wildsight.ca
